Crocodiles Facts and Pictures Live Science

June 25th, 2014 - A crocodile's jaws can apply 5 000 pounds of pressure per square inch. This means that they can bite through an arm or a leg with no problem. A human's jaw only produces 100 pounds of pressure per square inch. The crocodile jaw has very little opening strength though. For example a crocodile's mouth can be held shut with a rubber band.'
